PART SIX.

The exact date of the arrival of the news at Bethel that Fort Sumter, located in Charleston, S. C. harbor, had been fired upon by the insurgent military of the Southern States cannot, with the data now at hand, be accurately learned by the writer. It was, however, fifty years ago—a half century in which, from a national, and in many respects, numerous local points of view, has appeared the most interesting production to contemplate the world has brought to light in any other equal length of time. The progress made on Bethel Hill is not great but healthy and of a character all should take pride in considering. And it is indeed wise and fitting that a pause should be made at this date—a half-century point—since the clash of the military forces of the two sections of our great country and the young of Bethel left their homes, never to return, whose places of earthly repose in many cases, can never be known, and spend an hour in decorating the spots that are marked and speaking in adoration of those who fell by the way-side in the great encounter.

Bethel Hill then had a local newspaper called the "Bethel Courier" as it has now, but then records of events entered more into consideration, than records of exchanges of personal visits, as is now the case.

A complete file of the journals is not before me, so every occurrence of that period of a local nature cannot be obtained for use at this date but we can feel to rejoice that something has been saved and the village has now an organ willing to take and takes pride in reproducing records of such events of the past that are worthy of emulation hence continual remembrance.

"April 26, 1861." This is the date of the first notice that appeared in the "Courier" and the article is as follows:

Volunteers from Bethel. We saw yesterday morning, one of those affecting scenes, which characterize the advent of war. We refer to the leaving of the volunteers from this place, for Norway, whence, in a day or two, they will start for headquarters. There were eight of them; five, athletic, noble looking fellows. Their names are: Solon Robertson, Alfred M. True, (son of the Doctor), Al. E. Seavey, Charles and Edward Stearns, H. Doloff, Adelbert Grover and Timothy M. Ream.

After "making the rounds" of all the places of business, and bidding "all hands adieu," they proceeded to the railroad depot, where, after waiting some time, some one proposed a speech. Mr. E. M. Wright, a student at Gould's Academy was called upon, who after some urging, consented, and mounting a car loaded with wood, made a patriotic and encouraging speech, which was very acceptable, and appropriate for the occasion. He touched upon sectional troubles, the causes etc. of the war, and then proceeded to make an appeal to them to "stand up" for "their liberties, their country and their rights." He told them that they were starting on an expedition accompanied by much danger; that the eyes of the whole country were upon them, and they must do their duty as it benefited men. Then, with such earnestness he made some patriotic remarks in which nearly everyone present concurred. He closed amid the hearty cheers of the surrounding crowd. It was an eloquent address and evoked much honor on the speaker. Such words do not often come and therefore it may be overlooked if we say we felt some thing stirring in our hearts as we saw the brave fellows leave. They were all in good spirits, and they left with the good wishes of all the community, and they rode the way home.

50th ANNIVERSARY OF THE M. E. CHURCH.

Observed in Bethel This Week. Discourse by First Pastor.

This has been a red letter week for the Methodist Episcopal Church in Bethel, the occasion being the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of the church.

The exercises began Sunday morning by a sermon by Rev. A. W. Pottle of Buckfield, the first pastor of the church, which was also Mr. Pottle's first charge. Mr. Pottle's discourse was more of a historical and reminiscent nature, than a sermon and was much enjoyed by all. He spoke again Sunday evening along the same line.

On Monday evening a very enthusiastic temperance rally was held. Two temperance songs were sung and prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Hooper of Old Orchard, after which a solo was rendered by Mrs. Banghart. Mr. Banghart then introduced the first speaker of the evening, Rev. B. C. Wentworth of Norway, who spoke in part as follows:

"I thank God for the prohibitory law. I remember conditions before the law existed; I remember when there were four rum shops in my native town; I remember when there was one and when there was none. What are the conditions today? More liquor sold? No place in the town where liquor is sold, and this is true of hundreds of Maine towns. Bangor has had the only rum shops for twenty years, but Bangor has had a fire which has wiped out many of these places. Many young men of Maine have never seen a saloon. A resident of Portland said the other day that he should not know where to find a saloon in the city of Portland."

"Where does the liquor come from? Through the express office, generally, from New Hampshire and Boston into the State of Maine. New Hampshire and Massachusetts are asking the people of Maine to patronize them. The real issue is important and it is going to cost something to win. A supreme effort must be put forth."

"Brewers, distillers, wholesalers, retailers, would be a lawless keepers, drunkards, foreigners, outlaws, this class is for reprobation, while every clergyman almost to a man, secret orders and many of the large corporations are in favor of prohibition."

"Sixty-five per cent. of our population is in our country towns. Our salvation lies in getting them out. I don't believe the enemy is going to win. They have put no speakers in the field, and no prayers are being offered on the other side."

"The campaign will cost $100,000, but the victory will be worth every cent. The eyes of all nations are looking to Maine."

Rev. Alexander Hamilton then made a few remarks. Mr. Hamilton urged us to be ten-fold more vigilant. "We have got to be on the alert for the foe. We need nation wide prohibition. High license and local option at their best is not as good as prohibition at its worst. The numbers and the strength of our adversaries are so great that we say we cannot overthrow them, but nothing is impossible."

Mlle. Scaler Arrives Home.

After 15 Years' Absence in Europe.

Miss Minnie A. Plummer, known in the musical world by her stage name of Mlle. Scaler, arrived in South Paris from Quebec on the early express Sunday A. M. and is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Plummer.

It is 15 years since Miss Plummer went to Paris to study music. After gaining a position singing in opera she sang at the Hague, in London, and numerous other places. Last November she came to New Orleans as prima donna of the French opera company. The company stayed at New Orleans 3 months and then toured the states, with engagements at Mobile, Atlanta, Memphis, Kansas City, St. Louis, Louisville, Columbus, Washington, and Providence, and the last two weeks at Montreal and Quebec, where the tour ended Friday night.

THE TWO SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASSES AT THE UPTON'S.

If there is any place where you are sure of having a good time every time, it is at the Upton's. And this is true whether you go as an individual or in groups or companies. But a little the best of all the good times there, was last Friday evening.

The occasion was the celebrating of the close of the contests for excellence that Mrs. Upton's and Mrs. Valentine's Sunday School classes have been having for several months.

There were twenty-eight of us present to do honor to the event. We got there, some on foot, some on bikes, some in the auto and some by horse power; but we were all there and everything was ready for us.

Before the banquet there were out door games with the beauty and glory of exciting spring around us. And when we entered the dining hall, for that is what it is at the Upton's, how inviting that long and laden table looked! We ate and ate of the delicious viands till we said we could eat no more, and then kept right on through the ice cream, such lovely ice cream, and birthday cake, and candy, just as though nothing had preceded them.

It was a happy surprise for Rand when that elegant and delicious birthday cake with its eighteen lighted tapers was set down before him.

Then there were indoor games to test one's wit and wisdom and skill, with the climax of those labyrinthine twines. What a struggle we had to untwist and untwine them to find the May basket with more candy at their ends. Then there were songs and yells and cheers for the Intervale Farm, and finally lots of rab, rab, rabs for Upton and Valentine.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis were so glad to be there. Surely some enjoyed it more than they.

Their specialty abounds with clean cut, original comedy, which keeps the audience in a continual up and down state of suspense.

Their talent has won for them fame, both in Europe and America. They will be seen at the Odeon Hall, May 31.

BASE BALL.

Gould's, 6; Paris H. S., 2.

Gould's Academy base ball team was victorious in its first home game of the season with an out of town team Saturday afternoon. As opponents they lined up against the team from Paris High School, which had defeated them earlier in the season by the close score of 3 to 2 in a game played at South Paris. Gould's felt confident of victory on their home grounds, and did not allow the two run lead which the visitors carried in the second inning to worry them. The game was handled in an exceptionally clean manner with Harry Hastings of Bethel and Stanley Wheeler of South Paris officiating as umpires. Not a decision made during the game provoked the slightest discussion by either team.

The game was fairly well played by both teams, Gould's winning by her superior hitting, while the visitors had a little something on the home team in the fielding department. The hits stood 10 to 5 in Gould's favor. Paris was credited with 15 assists and only 3 errors, Gould's record was only 9 assists and 7 errors.

Titcomb of the visiting team must be credited with turning in the best play of the game, when in the fourth inning he took Smith's hard hit ground ball in front of second base with one hand while running fast and got his man at first by a perfect throw.

Only one man reached first base in the first inning. F. Witham drew a pass after two men were out, but Newton went to first to run for him and was immediately caught off the bag by a quick throw from Lawler. The visitors got busy in the second. Rowe sent a line hit to center field, Russell failed to head the ball and Rowe made second. F. Witham made the first hit of the game, a ground ball between first and second, placing Rowe on third and he went to second on the first pitched ball. Lowell tried a bunt and Young's throw to the plate was bad, and Rowe scored. When Foster fumbled Newton's drive F. Witham crossed the cupped. Lawler got Davis and Hartlett on strikes, and Dunham went out on a fly to Farnham.

In the last half of the second Rowe got the three Gould's hitters, Arno, Foster and Young on strikes. The visitors looked a trifle dangerous in the third. Titcomb was passed and dropped second safely when Farnham reached Smith's perfect throw. Lawler also passed K. Witham. The next three batters could do nothing. Rowe was out on a fly to Smith. F. Witham struck out and Lowell fled out to Russell. Gould's tied the score in their half of the inning. Taylor was hit by a pitched ball and after Rand struck out, Russell drew a pass. A wild pitch advanced the runner. Newton missed a foul tip on Lawler which would have made the third strike, and the batter then made good with a fine drive to left field which scored both runners. Lawler then got caught off first and Farnham fanned.

It was the last of the fifth before either team threatened to break the tie and at this time Gould's had a runner thrown out at the plate. Young was the first batter for Gould's and hit safely. Taylor was thrown out by Davis. Young taking second. Rand sent a hit into left field and Young tried to score from second, Russell's throw in was true to the mark and Young was out by a narrow margin.

The sixth saw plenty of action on both sides. Rowe opened for Paris with a two base hit. F. Witham went out at first. Lowell's ground hit got by Young and a pass to Newton fled the bases. The next two batters were the last on the visitor's batting order and were easy for Lawler, who pulled out of a bad hole by getting them both on strikes. Gould's then scored three.

Lawler's hit got by Rowe and after Farnham died out Smith sent one to right field good for three bases, scored Lawler. Arno hit to Rowe who was hurried and threw the ball over to Rowe's base. Smith coming and Arno taking second. Foster struck out. Young made the second hit, scored. Arno, Taylor closed the inning with a fly to Titcomb.

Paris got the first two batters on in the seventh but could not score and played as well on the defense that this for Rand, Farnham and Arno and a base on balls to Russell only called the home team one run. There was nothing doing in the eighth. Dunham started the ninth with a clean hit but failed to stretch it and was thrown out at second by Russell. Titcomb drew a pass. K. Witham sent a fly into short left, that neither Rand or Russell could

COMMENCEMENT CONCERT OF G. A.

The Senior Class of Gould's Academy take pleasure in making the announcement that they have secured the following talent for this year's Commencement Concert: The Orphean Quintette of Lewiston, consisting of Mrs. Jack Bewley, 1st soprano; Miss Marion M. Washburn, 2nd soprano; Miss Hazel B. Barnard, 1st Alto; Miss Exilla M. Blonin, 2nd Alto; Miss Mabel C. Johnson, pianist and accompanist. With the exception of Miss Johnson, who will be pleasantly remembered by Bethel people, these artists have never before appeared before a Bethel audience, but if we may judge by the enthusiasm with which they have been received in other places throughout the State, the music lovers of Bethel have a rich treat in store for them on the evening of June 8th.

The Quintette will be assisted by Miss Florence L. Eaton, reader and impersonator of the Curry School of Expression, Boston. Miss Eaton was formerly a Gould's Academy girl, and will be remembered as possessing marked elocutionary ability when a student at Gould's. She has given three years of close application to dramatic study and has recently read before large audiences in and around Boston.

We predict that this talent will attract one of the largest audiences that has ever attended a Commencement Concert in Bethel.

Tickets are now on sale at Pushard's at popular prices, 35c and 50c. All seats reserved.

There will be a Board of Trade meeting this Thursday evening, at the office of Herrick & Park.

quite got to, but it looked so much like an out cast Titcomb held first until it was too late to reach second. Rowe closed the game by hitting to Lawler, who threw him out at first.

HEART THRILLING GEMS.

THE LAKE OF THE DISMAL SWAMP.

They made her a grave too cold and damp,
For a soul so warm and true,
And she's gone to the Lake of the Dismal Swamp.
Where all night long by a firefly lamp
She paddles her white canoe.
And her firefly lamp I soon shall see,
And her paddle I soon shall hear:
Long and loving our life shall be,
And I'll hide the maid in a cypress tree
When the footstep of death is near.

Away to the Dismal Swamp he speeds,
His path is rugged and sore,
Through tangled juniper, beds of reeds,
Through many a fen where the serpent feeds,
And man ne'er trod before.

And when on the earth he sank to sleep,
If sleep his eyelids knew,
He lay where the deadly vipers do weep
Their venomous fangs and nightly sleep
The flesh with blistering dew.

And near him the snow-wolf stirred the brake,
And the rattlesnake breathed in his ear,
Till the starting creed, from his dreams awake,
Oh, when shall I see the dusky lake
And the white canoe of my dear!

He saw the lake, and a meteor bright Quick o'er its surface played.
"Welcome," he said, "my dear one's light!"
And the dim shore echoed for many a night
The name of the death-cold maid!

Till he formed a boat of the birchen bark
Which carried him off from the shore;
For he followed the meteor's spark.
The winds were high and the clouds were dark,
And the boat returned no more.

But off from the Indian hunter's camp,
The lover and maid so true
Are seen at the hour of midnight damp,
To cross the lake by a firefly lamp,
And paddle their white canoe.
Thomas Moore.

THE EVENING PRAYER.

In the twilight of my days,
In the evening of the years,
Life unto my saddened gaze
Seems a vision veiled in tears.
All the knowledge fades away
That I vainly thought to keep;
As a little child I pray:
"Now I lay me down to sleep."

I have wandered far from Thee
Since that childish prayer I said,
And the lips that taught it me
Have been gathered to the dead;
Yet her face I seem to see
When the evening shadows creep,
And again, as at her knee,
"Pray Thee, Lord, my soul to keep!"

Softly fades the lingering light:
Lo the last beam leaves the skies;
And I watch, amid the night,

For the evening star to rise,
Far beyond the bounds of space,
I may drift ere day shall break;
Let me see my mother's face
"If I die before I wake!"

Darker grows the gathering gloom,
While my soul its vigil keeps
With the memories that loom
Up from life's unsounded deeps,
When upon a sunless strand
I shall hear the surges break,
Ere I near the Nameless Land,
"Pray Thee, Lord, my soul to take!"
—Maria Conway Cramer in the Independent.

"THE MEN WHO WON."

There's a voice and a shout for the men who win,
There's a storm of applause and of wonder;
But never a cheer for the men whose sin
Was only to fall and blunder.

So here is a song for the men who toil
With the frowning skies above them,
And here is a toast for the men who follow—
To the men who lose—God love them!

Oh, what is success but an empty game?
What is wealth but a bubble over?
Yet right is a something more than a name
Though the wrong rides high for ever.

So here is a song for the ones that live
Though fortune ne'er caress them,
And here is a toast for the souls that strive—
To the men who lose—God bless them!

There's a cheer for heroes on land and sea,
There's a fame for the high endeavor,
There's a shout for the knight of chivalry,
There's a praise for the strong and clever.

But here is a song for the ones that live
Though fortune ne'er caress them,
And here is a toast for the souls that strive—
To the men who lose—God bless them!

—Edward Wilbur Mason, in National Magazine for May.

Headaches and Their Treatment.

In treating a headache, there is one safe rule to follow:—Never use any medicine containing acetanilid or similar anal-tar derivatives without the advice of your physician. They may give temporary relief, but they almost never reach the cause of the trouble and are likely to weaken the heart. The most common form of headache, frequently called sick headache, arising from a disordered stomach, may be avoided by care in the choice of food. Shun pastry, candy and rich food, take time to eat, chew your food thoroughly and keep your bowels in good condition by using one-half to one teaspoonful of L. F. Atwood's Medicine after each meal. This old reliable remedy has been a perfect blessing to thousands for sixty years. Get a bottle today, and prove it for yourself. Any dealer has it for thirty-five cents, or we will send a free sample on request. L. F. Medicine Co., Portland, Me.

Keep The Balance Up.

It has been truthfully said that any disturbance of the even balance of health causes serious trouble. Nobody can be too careful to keep this balance up. When people begin to lose appetite, or to get tired easily, the least impudence brings on sickness, weakness or debility. The system needs a tonic, craves it, and should not be denied it; and the best tonic of which we have any knowledge is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

What this medicine has done in keeping healthy people healthy, in keeping up the even balance of health, gives it the same distinction as a preventive that it enjoys as a cure. Its early use has illustrated the wisdom of the old saying that a stitch in time saves nine. Take Hood's for appetite, strength, and endurance.

LITTLEFIELD ON PROHIBITION.

The following are abstracts taken from an article by an author named Charles E. Littlefield on prohibition. Mr. Littlefield says there is less insanity and crime in Maine than in Massachusetts, and also states that there is nothing in the policy or law of Maine that differentiates her from her sister states, except the prohibitory law.

"Whether or not a community has prospered during a given period, from the material point of view suggested by Mr. Garvin, clearly depends upon the accumulation of wealth per capita, and its increase or decrease, and there Maine easily outstrips Massachusetts, as her per capita wealth in 1850 was $210, while in 1900 it was $922, an increase of four and one-half times. Massachusetts had per capita in 1850 $377, and in 1900 $1553, an increase of only two and four-fifths times.

"This is the period covered by the Maine law. Moreover, from 1880 to 1902 Maine has decreased her indebtedness per capita $10, and Massachusetts has increased hers by the same amount.

"The liquor traffic is the most profitable and potential source of insanity, pauperism and crime.

"In 1900 Maine had 885 insane in its hospitals, 1253 for every 100,000 people. Massachusetts had 5679, or 236.5 for every 100,000, more than twice as many as Maine, notwithstanding the fact that the death record in Massachusetts for insane in hospitals was 1025, with only 95 in Maine, nearly eleven times as many when there should only have been four times as many. Maine shows a decrease of the number of insane with her relatively small death rate of insane, since 1850 of 112.3 in every 100,000 people, while Massachusetts shows an increase of 1 in every 100,000.

"There were of prisoners in Maine June 1, 1900, 512, or 774
for every 100,000 in Massachusetts, 5225, or 2135 for every 100, 000, three times as many as in Maine. Among the offences were Aggravated assault, Maine, 47; Aggravated assault, Massachusetts, 187.

Massachusetts, 1712. Assault,
Maine, 36; Massachusetts, 345.
Drunk and disorderly, Maine 146;
Massachusetts, 1811.

"June 30, 1901, there were of prisoners for drunkenness in Maine 120 and in Massachusetts 1100, a proportion of more than ten to one, when if parallel it should be fair to say. This is a record with which Maine has no comparison to be discouraged.

"Maine's death rate from alcoholism in 1900 for every 100, 000 people was 2.2; that of Massachusetts was 6.4, three times as great.

"Mr. Littlefield also states that there is no reason why the people of Maine should not feel entitled with the results of comparison with other states to it demonstrating that she is easily one of the best governed.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Last Wednesday the Ladies' Club was invited to meet with Mrs. J. M. Poirer.
When it became known it was her birthday anniversary, the ladies thought it would be pleasant to give her a little surprise in honor of the day and as recognition of her long and faithful service as Secretary of the Club.

The regular program first received attention and as the hostess prepared to serve light refreshments, there was just a suggestion of mystery provided the atmosphere, which began to be scented when Mrs. Poirer read an original poem, dedicated to the hostess, which was most appropriate and expressed the good wishes of the Club.
During the serving of coffee and cake
it became evident cakes and cake in the Paragon house were being served and the surprise was complete when a beautiful birthday cake with the candles lighted was brought in and presented to the hostess, who was also the recipient of a bouquet of apple blooms and a large bouquet of pink.
At the close of a social hour the guests extended congratulations with the wish for the return of many happy birthdays. Miss Belle Portington assisted and added much to the success of the happy surprise.

One of the principal features of DeLoe Bros. Ideal Minstrels will be the reappearance of Lucky Brothers in America, direct from their tour of the principal cities of Europe, which included a ten weeks' engagement at the Coliseum Hippodrome, in London, England, where their act met with great favor and was witnessed by DeLoe Bros. European agent, and immediately an agreement was made and they were engaged for their first return appearance in America. They have the reputation of being one of the few actually who have performed and appeared before royalty. This extraordinary success is without a doubt the most successful performance which has been presented in America, performing weekly upwards of ten of profitable nightly before the general public, and featuring act at each performance, at the DeLoe Bros. Maine, 187.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Bethel Women Are Finding Relief at Last.

In Bethel, where women have more than a fair share of the ills and pains that afflict humanity, they must "keep up" with the latest fashions in the way of constantly making backs, or transforming, daily shifts, tearing down pairs, they must sleep cover, when to keep warm. Very much walk and bend and work with shaking pains and make a life from misery. The cause of this is the body. Keep the body warm and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidney trouble that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by physicians in this locality.

Mrs. Marie Evans, 108 Prospect Ave., Bethel, Me., says: "I was a sufferer from kidney trouble for years.
The kidney medicines were exhausted and I was nearly over the edge from the small of my back. I also had headaches, tired energy and felt unwieldy in every way. I was always telling myself, how willing was I to get of as much benefit to me as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I strongly recommend it to my friends."

DIXFIELD ITEMS.

The Happenings of the Week
as gathered by the Citizen Reporter.

The funeral services of Mr. Ferdinand Morehead were held at his home Monday, A. M., at 10 o'clock. Mr.
Morehead's death occurred Saturday,
and was a great shock to the community, as he was confined to his bed only a few days, having typhoid fever. Mr.
Morehead had lived in the village for several years, and about three weeks ago moved to the farm he had recently purchased of Mr. Orlando Babbs, having sold the land in the village. Mr.
Morehead was an honest, industrious citizen, well known throughout the community. He leaves a widow, six children, an aged father, who have the sympathy of all in their and hereafterment. He was 48 years of age. The interment was at Greenwood cemetery.

The W. O. O. I. C. Club were entertained Saturday evening at the home of Henrietta Thompson.

Some interesting notes from the school as follows:

A new book case has been purchased by the intermediate grade.

The high school scholars are working hard to raise money for a piano, for their room.

New globes have recently been put in the several grades of the Dixfield school.

The pupils from Mrs. Lane's room have added several new games to the play ground, among them, a set of quoits, and a feather board.

Mrs. Mattie Kilgore has been quite sick the past few days.

Mr. Marshall White, who suffered a stroke of paralysis Wednesday of last week is in a critical condition.

Mrs. Isabel Russell and guests, the Misses Lillian and Freda DeLoe of Boston, enjoyed an auto trip to Weld, Thursday of last week, and were entertained at the home of Mrs. Russell's sister, Mrs. Frank Dexter.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Farrington and daughter of Rumford were guests of Mr. Farrington's parents Sunday, May 14.

Mrs. Walter Chase recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brown, at Locke's Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stanley were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coburn at Weld a few days the past week.

In the notice of death of Mr. Martin, given in last week's item, the name should have been Columbus instead of Augustus, as given. The funeral service was held at the home of his nephew, Mr. Fred Hannaford. He was 71 years of age.

There are four new touring cars in town. Mr. Maurice McIntire and Z. V.
Taylor have purchased two cars to be used for the public. The new Volvo car of Mr. Geo. Gray attracts considerable attention.

FIRE AT EAST ANDOVER.

Saturday morning at 5:20 the family of C. B. Crocker, who live on the Rufus Merrill farm at East Andover were awakened to find their buildings on fire and had only time to escape from the house in their night clothes.

Mrs. Crocker tried to go back into the house, but the stairway was in flames and the heat intense.

Only a few articles of furniture were saved and very little bedding. Quite a sum of money was also burned.

A horse, cow and calf, barn, a quantity of hay, 50 dollars worth of planks, lathes, wagons, and farming articles of all kinds were burned with the barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Crocker have four small children and a father and mother, who live with them, and as well the loss of the home falls most heavily.
The family are living in the carriage shop near the ruins.

The cause of the fire is unknown.
Mr. Crocker and family have the sympathy of the community in their loss.

MRS. MARY A. GORHAM.

Mrs. Mary A. Gorham, who was married from the time of her father, Miss Russell and Mrs. Sutherland at Middle Intervale last Thursday afternoon, was born in Bethel, eighty years ago this 11th of May.

In her young womanhood she married David A. Gorham of Newry.
They lived in Massachusetts for over 40 years and Mrs. Gorham resided with the First Congregational church of Lawrence, more than forty years ago.

After their return to Maine they purchased a home near Mrs. Gorham's birthplace, where Mr. Gorham died four years ago last fall. The following winter Mrs. Gorham fractured her hip from which she has suffered ever since.

But she has borne this as she has borne the former loss of her husband and children.

Endowed by all who know her, and much highly esteemed by those who were in her family, she has fought the good fight, she has kept the crown, and passed on to the home of the blessed,
to meet the dear ones who have preceded her and receive the reward of the faithful.

Mr. Jones is a farmer, who comes into town about once a week peddling goods and this dog has been accustomed to accompany him on these trips. On this afternoon while Mr. Jones was busy in a home the dog got into a fight with two other dogs and little Miss Downs was near and in the general mixup the dog knocked her down and bit her finger quite badly. A doctor was summoned at once and did the finger up and the child is recovering nicely. Headaches and Their Treatment.

In treating a headache, there is one safe rule to follow:—Never use any medicine containing acetanilid or similar acetar derivatives without the advice of your physician. They may give temporary relief, but they almost never reach the cause of the trouble and are likely to weaken the heart. The most common form of headache, frequently called sick headache, arising from a disordered stomach, may be avoided by care in the choice of food. Shun pastry, candy and rich food, take time to eat, chew your food thoroughly and keep your bowels in good condition by using one-half to one teaspoonful of L. F. Atwood's Medicine after each meal. This old reliable remedy has been a perfect blessing to thousands for sixty years. Get a bottle today, and prove it for yourself. Any doctor has it for thirty-five cents, or we mail a free sample on request. L. F. Medicine Co., Portland, Me.

Keep The Balance Up.

It has been truthfully said that any disturbance of the even balance of health causes serious trouble. Nobody can be too careful to keep this balance up. When people begin to lose appetite, or to get tired easily, the least impudence brings on sickness, weakness or debility. The system needs a tonic, craves it, and should not be denied it; and the best tonic of which we have any knowledge is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What this medicine has done in keeping healthy people healthy, in keeping up the even balance of health, gives it the same distinction as a preventive that it enjoys as a cure. Its early use has illustrated the wisdom of the old saying that a stitch in time saves nine. Take Hood's for appetite, strength, and endurance.
